The 5 R's of Ballet Etiquette

Dancers Show Respect for the Studio

1. No gum chewing in class.
2. No food in the Studio—water bottles only.
3. No street shoes are permitted in the Studios at any time.
4. If you bring it in, you must take it out when you leave.
5. No hanging on the barres.
6. Keep your hands off the mirrors.

Dancers Show Respect for their Fellow Dancers

1. Keep your hands to yourself.
2. Only soft voices in class.
3. Only kind, encouraging comments in class.

Dancers Show Respect for their Teacher

1. Waiting quietly and patiently for the teacher's instructions in class.
2. Always ask permission to leave the room.
3. Always raise your hand when asking a question.
4. Always take care of personal business—including a trip to the restroom--before entering the studio.
5. If you arrive late for class, stand quietly at the door, and wait to be invited into the studio.
6. Always thank your teacher at the conclusion of class.

Dancers Show Respect for Themselves

1. Come to class on time and ready to work hard.
2. If you arrive more than 15 minutes late to class, you will not be allowed to participate.
3. Come to class proudly dressed in the uniform of the class. This includes having your hair fixed securely in a bun (for girls) or in a ponytail (for boys, when necessary) and wearing absolutely no jewelry of any kind.
4. Come to class well nourished and hydrated.

Dancer's Families Show Respect for the Art of Ballet

1. Knock before entering a studio when class is in session.
2. Keep voices low when waiting for a dancer in the lobby or in the hallways.
3. Alert the Office when your dancer will be late or absent for class.
4. Address all questions directly to the Office, or Artistic Director to insure accurate information.
5. Assist your dancer in arriving to class on time.
6. Pick up your dancer immediately at the end of class.
7. Check your dancer's bag for important flyers and informative letters.
8. Attend Parent Observation Days.
9. Encourage your dancer to review the corrections and material from each class.
10. Ensure your dancer has all supplies necessary for a neat bun, clean and properly fitting slippers, as well as clean tights and leotard.
11. Refrain from challenging or disparaging a teacher's professional evaluation of your dancer, the material presented, or the method of its delivery.
